RE: Proceeding 16-106 - Protecting the Privacy of Customers of Broadband and Other
Telecommunications Services

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

There is ONE thing in my CRAW that I would like answers! You want impose various restrictions on me while ALLOWING others to be EXEMPT from them! I would like to KNOW every entity that is EXEMPT from this issue and WHY! What makes them so DIFFERENT and Important that they can be EXEMPT?!

If you are NOT willing to truthfully answer my questions, there is obviously some very bad issues in this action and it should NOT BE ALLOWED to effect the Internet at all!

It seems to me that Obama is ONLY after a way to Stop the Truth being spread about Radical Islamic Terrorists, People in Politics, etc. etc. A Gustappo action for sure!

So answer up & allow us, the public, to then study it & agree to it; otherwise, SCRAP the whole thing TELLING Obama "It didn't work!".

I see that you recently proposed new "privacy"_ regulations to protect consumers from online companies, but noticed something curious: Google gets a free pass!

You know as well as anyone that Google knows more about us than any company in the world. More about our personal shopping habits; what we watch on the Internet; and how we live our lives.

And now they're even collecting our DNA!

Do not take Americans as fools, Chairman Wheeler. Your so-called privacy rules do nothing to secure our privacy when they give a free pass to the worst privacy violator in history.

And this isn't the first time Obama's friends have been protected. When you passed the largest government takeover of the Internet in history, Google got a free pass from following those rules, too.

Why are you going out of your way to protect Google? Could it be because Google is Obama's biggest corporate patron? Could it be because Google and the federal government work so closely on so many projects?

You've seen the recent news no doubt: Regular meetings at the White House. Hundreds of employees going back and forth between Google and the Obama Administration, including at least 9 between Google and your FCC!

Americans have noticed and we're disgusted.

Sincerely,
Joseph Lyddon
